National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS)

The NDIS is a new way of providing community linking and individualised support for people with permanent and significant disability, their families and carers. Participants will be able to access NDIS community linkages and individualised planning processes to identify the reasonable and necessary supports they need to achieve their goals. To get an idea about whether the person you care for may be eligible, read through the NDIS Access Checklist on the NDIS website:

<https://www.ndis.gov.au/ndis-access-checklist>.

To discuss your child's eligibility to access the NDIS and for referrals to mainstream supports there are two pathways:

- Early Intervention (ECEI) Partners for children with a disability aged 0-6
- Local Area Coordinators (LAC) for people with a disability aged 7+

This NDIS webpage has the locations and contact details for both pathways in each state.

W: <https://www.ndis.gov.au/about-us/locations.html>

The ECEI Approach for children aged 0-6

The ECEI approach supports children aged 0-6 years who have a developmental delay or disability and their families/carers. The ECEI approach supports families to help children develop the skills they need to take part in daily activities and achieve the best possible outcomes throughout their life.

The NDIS has engaged Early Childhood Partners around Australia to deliver the ECEI approach. Early Childhood Partners are experienced in providing early childhood intervention.
